ACQUITS FORD AND CROHNHEIM

Broker and Former Councilman Are Found Not Guilty of Breach of Real Estate Law.

CONDUCT OF BOTH
HELD "UNETHICAL"

Probe of Perkerson Park Sale Practically the Same as Investigation by City Council.

Charles M. Ford and Sam P. Cronheim were declared not guilty of any breach of the Georgia real estate law in a verdict rendered Thursday by the Georgia Real Estate commission, following a special hearing of alleged irregularities in sale of the Perkerson tract to the city of Atlanta for use as a park.

In the opinion of the commissioners, attached to the verdict, the conduct of both men in negotiating the deal was held to be unethical and reprehensible, showing violation of the spirit of the law while avoiding violation of the letter of the law.

Empowered by act of the general assembly to revoke or suspend licenses of culpable real estate brokers and salesmen, the commission summoned for trial Cronheim, accredited with receiving $5,075 as broker in the Perkerson park transaction, and Ford, former member of council from the tenth ward, in which the tract is located, and recipient of approximately $9,000 of the $20,000 commission, according to testimony introduced at the probe Thursday and at the councilmanic committee investigation, which recently resulted in a recommendation to impeach Ford.

Same Information Considered.

The trial resulted largely in reconsideration of the same information brought to light in the city council probe and required from 10 o'clock Thursday morning until 2:30 o'clock that afternoon for presentation of evidence and arguments of attorneys for the defense. The trials of both Ford and Cronheim were held jointly, with a single decision, applicable to both defendants, announced by J. B. Everett, inspector for the commission, at 6 o'clock after two and a half hours of deliberation by the commissioners.

In the bill of complaints against the two real estate men, filed with the commission by Inspector Everett as a result of evidence disclosed in the councilmanic probe, Ford was charged with three violations of the real estate statute, while Cronheim was confronted with two charges, consisting of paying a commission for valuable consideration to any person not licensed under the provision of the act and demonstrating unworthiness or incompetency to act as real estate broker or salesman in such manner as to safeguard the interest.

AT LAKEWOOD FAIR

The beautiful Constitution trophy won by the Georgia Tech football team last December when it defeated the University of Georgia two out of three games will be on exhibition in the Tech "trophy" show at the South-eastern fair, which opens at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

Another beautiful trophy won by Ed Hamm in Europe while a member of the American Olympic team will be on display along with three other trophies won by various Georgia Tech athletes during the past few years.

Tech trophies will be placed in a large glass case near the entrance of the liberal arts building where the Georgia Tech exhibit will be located, and this will be the first opportunity that the public has had to see any of the silverware won by the Gold and White teams.

Mrs. Leah Piha Found in Pool of Blood at Home; Unknown White Man Object of Wide Search.

Found early Thursday night on the second floor of her home with her throat badly slashed, Mrs. Leah Piha, of 195 Woodward avenue, was at Grady hospital near death last night while police were conducting a vigorous search for an unidentified white man thought to have been her assailant.

The wounded woman was found lying in a hallway by her 14-year-old daughter, Matilda. The girl said that she had been to visit a relative and had been absent from the house for about 30 minutes. When she returned, she said, both the front and back doors were locked. Finally gaining entrance by thrusting her hand through a crack in a rear door she immediately started a search for her mother.

The child found Mrs. Piha lying in a pool of blood and immediately called neighbors to her aid. An ambulance was summoned from the J. Austin Dillon company and the woman was rushed to Grady hospital.

At the hospital, Mrs. Piha, almost unable to speak because of a partially severed larynx, told her story to detectives with the aid of an interpreter, being able to speak only Greek. She emphatically denied any attempt at self-destruction, saying that she was attacked by a white man whom she did not know. She stated that he entered the house and finding her on the second floor placed his hand over her mouth and slashed her across the throat.

Detectives J. C. Davis and W. J. Anderson were assigned to the case and are attempting to determine the cause of the attack as well as its perpetrator. No weapon was discovered in the house, with the exception of a butcher knife, found in the kitchen but bearing no stains or other indications that it had been used in the attack. The officers were at a loss to explain the locked doors.

RELIGIOUS SURVEY
SHOWS 54,624,976
CHURCH MEMBERS

Washington, September 27.—(AP)—There were 213 religious bodies and denominations in the United States during 1926, with 54,624,976 members, organized in 231,983 churches, parishes and congregations.

The census bureau reported these statistics today, and compared them with its findings 10 years ago—for 1916—of 200 religious denominations, with 41,926,854 members. The value of church buildings and other property was $3,842,577,132. In 1916 the reported church expenditures amounted to $28,800,999 and church property was valued at $1,676,900,582.

By far the largest single religious body reporting was that of the Roman Catholic church, credited with 18,606,065 members in 1926 compared with 15,721,815 in 1916. The largest single Protestant body and third largest denomination was the Methodist Episcopal church with 4,080,777 members in 1926 and 3,717,785 in 1916. The second largest was the Jewish congregations, which reported 4,087,357 members in 1926, a very large gain over the membership of 357,135 reported by Jewish congregations in 1916.

The fourth largest religious body was that of Southern Baptists, which had 3,224,578 members in 1926 and 2,708,870 in 1916.

Moses, Work, Fort and Mann Confer and Later Hold Session With Mr. Hoover Over Tirades.

BY ALFRED P. RECK,
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, September 27.—The republican inter-campaign council met with Herbert Hoover, presidential nominee today, and it was indicated, discussed the activities of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, who has been conducting a vigorous platform attack on the prohibition record of Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Although no official announcement was made following the conference, it was strongly intimated the recent Ohio tour of Mrs. Willebrandt occupied an important place in the discussions. Senator Moses, New Hampshire republican, and eastern campaign manager, remarked:

"The chief asked me if I had any communications about Mrs. Willebrandt, and I said I had plenty."

He declined to amplify his statement. Silence reigned. Republican National Committee Chairman Work, Franklin Fort, committee secretary, and Colonel Horace Mann, southern division chief, who attended the conference, refused to discuss the nature of the meeting.

However, attaches at Hoover headquarters said "the big four are here on the same subject."

Fort remarked he had given Hoover a personal report of the New England exchange of notes and had not discussed Mrs. Willebrandt's speeches.

"I feel more confident of New England now than before," he said. "In New Hampshire the wounds of the recent primary fight have been healed and everyone is working in accord. The Massachusetts organization is in better spirits than I have ever seen it."

Chairman Work was noncommittal. "I am chairman of the republican national committee and I have conferences every day with Mr. Hoover," he said.

Mann refused to comment. Moses said he was pleased with the republican situation in New England but declined to say whether Mrs. Willebrandt's activities caused him to come here from New York for the conference.

"I came down to report about certain matters of vital political issue in states over which I have a watchful eye," he said. "I received from I received from him certain words of wisdom and I am now on my way home."

Mrs. Willebrandt will be back at her desk in the department of justice Friday, it was said. She left Chicago Wednesday with full authority from the republican campaign speakers' bureau to continue her campaign for Hoover in any way she pleases.

In recent speeches she denounced Governor Smith for his stand on prohibition in such vigorous terms as to draw fire from the democratic nominee himself.

She plans to leave early in October to renew her campaign against Governor Smith in Kentucky, Tennessee and other southern states, if time permits.

Peter Hansen, mystery prisoner of the Atlanta federal pen, who is said to have been an "undercover" man in a secret investigation of the institution, was reported Thursday to be William Larsen, department of justice operative who has worked under Thomas C. Wilcox, head of the Detroit bureau.

Wilcox and W. M. Boland, special agents of the department who are in Atlanta conducting a probe of the prison, and who are instructed, it is said, to make a general investigation of the institution and its administration, Thursday awaited further orders from Washington before entering the penitentiary.

The Constitution has had information regarding the identity of Hansen, who served a stretch as prisoner No. 26,206, for several days. These reports were corroborated from several sources Thursday including independent news connections.

When questioned concerning the relation of Larsen and Hansen, Wilcox declined to comment at all even to say

U. S. ACCORDS

Decision Will Be Made Public If Chinese Ask; Dr. Sze Remains as Diplomatic Head.

Washington, September 27.—(United News.)—The United States has extended complete official recognition to the nationalist regime in Nanking as the government of China, although there will be no formal announcement to this effect unless requested by Nanking, the United States was informed today by state department officials.

America's stand with regard to the nationalists may, however, be revealed within a few days by Secretary of State Kellogg in an informal statement.

This important move by the United States, it was said, is the outcome of several months' study of the problem created when John Van A. MacMurray, American minister to China, signed on July 25, a tariff treaty with the nationalist finance minister, T. V. Soong.

When this treaty was signed Secretary Kellogg said it constituted at least de facto recognition of the Nanking government. The consensus of authoritative opinion, however, was that the new Chinese regime had not been recognized as the de jure government of China. Subsequently, it was learned, state department officials have decided recognition of the tariff treaty in itself amounted to full recognition.

This opinion Kellogg recently accepted and the Nanking government was so notified. Although it had been anticipated the nationalist regime would request a formal exchange of notes on the subject to have made public their recognition by the United States, no such request has yet been made.

Under the new arrangement, Dr. Alfred Sze will continue here as the Chinese minister, as he advised the state department some time ago. Dr. Sze has not yet presented formal credentials from the nationalist government as minister, but he remains in the eyes of the American government, his diplomatic standing.

MacMurray will remain in Peking as American minister under the arrangement. It is planned, it is said, to maintain the American legation in Peking indefinitely, although part of the American diplomatic staff may be transferred soon to Nanking.

There have been reports that the Chinese would raise the status of their legation here to an embassy and similar action will probably be taken by the United States with regard to our Peking legation if this is done.

Tulsa, Okla., September 27.—(AP)—Senator Charles Curtis, republican vice presidential nominee, in a speech here this afternoon, declared that the solution of the farm problem is a protective tariff.

He was literally flung at the audience by the Kansas as he upheld the republican administration.

Responsibility for the post war deflation was placed by the nominee upon the shoulders of the democratic administration of 1919.

Stop Is Short.
Prominent republicans of Oklahoma accompanied Senator Curtis on his tour, made both by train and motor car. The nominee's stop in Tulsa was not long. He spoke at a ranking grounds at 9 a. m. from an elaborate glass enclosure set up on the back of a wooden elevator stationed in the center of the grounds.

Motoring back to his car at Afton, the senator proceeded toward Tulsa again by rail, but he left his private car at Vinita to address briefly a crowd gathered in the opera house there. At Vinita the senator met Chief Buffington of the Cherokee tribe.

FALL OIL LEASES
FREQUENT TOPIC
OF CABINET TALKSBY BASIL MANLY.
(Copyright, 1928, by Basil Manly.)

Washington, September 27.—The leasing of Teapot Dome and other naval oil reserves was discussed by the Harding cabinet, of which Herbert Hoover was a member, not only at the meeting of October 18, 1921, as revealed here yesterday, by the respondent of The Constitution, but on numerous other occasions, it is disclosed by an examination of the official records of the Teapot Dome investigation committee.

The first time this policy was considered by the cabinet was shortly after President Harding's inauguration. It was then raised in connection with the proposal to transfer the oil reserves from the custody of the navy department, where there were high naval officials interested in their protection, to the interior department, presided over by Albert B. Fall, who was later to receive $390,000 in cash and securities from the oil operators to whom he awarded them.

Such a transfer of valuable government property, the highest authorities have held, can be legally accomplished only by an act of congress. But Fall, seeking to get these reserves into his own control, wished to avoid congress and sought to secure the same result by an executive order of the president.

Such an order, which the highest courts in the land have since voided, was actually signed by President Harding on May 31, 1921.

Illegal Act.
That this illegal act transferring the billion dollar oil reserves to Fall's custody was not merely participated in by Secretaries Denby and Fall, but was considered by the Harding cabinet as a whole, is evidenced by the testimony of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. He acted as a messenger between Fall and Denby and was therefore in a position to know the facts.

Senator Walsh: Colonel Roosevelt, when did you first learn of the conspiracy of this great subject which resulted in this order?

"Assistant Secretary Roosevelt: As I recall it, Senator, it was after a cabinet meeting. The secretary (Denby) returned to the department and told me that this subject had come up for discussion at a cabinet meeting."

Sentator Walsh: And can you fix the time with reference to the date of the order, which is May 31?

"Assistant Secretary Roosevelt: No; except that it was probably a few weeks before."

Thus, it would appear, at the very inception of this great conspiracy which the supreme court denounced as leaving "a trail of corruption and fraud" the plans were laid before the Harding cabinet, of which Herbert Hoover was then a member. At that stage it might have been halted by a

Mail Planes Save Lives
Of Families From Fire

Night mail pilots along the New York-Atlanta air route have added the task of unofficial fire rangers to their duties to vary the monotony of their flights.

On successive days, pilots have discovered homes in flames far beneath them and by swinging low over neighboring residences have roused sleeping occupants who warned those asleep in the burning houses.

Gene Brown, pilot on the Atlanta-Richmond leg of the route, was credited by 14 negroes living near Simpsonville, S. C., with saving their lives early Wednesday.

Brown observing the burning house as he flew toward Atlanta, shortly before dawn, banked steeply toward a neighboring house, which he circled creating all the commotion possible until he roused the occupants who spread the alarm to the negroes, who slept soundly unaware of the fire.

The negroes barely escaped from the building before flames enveloped it. Dick Merrill performed a similar service for a family near Quantico, Va., early Thursday. Merrill had been sent to Washington for overflow mail from the southbound plane from New York. On his return flight, he discovered the fire and like Brown circled a neighboring house, creating as much noise as possible until he attracted attention to the fire.

Both pilots after spreading the alarm, swung back on their routes and roared away toward the goal of their flight.

The flier about 4 a. m., noticed the house, located on the A. G. Edwards farm, aflame and circled low over the neighborhood until members of that family were awakened and rushed to the burning house and warned the sleeping negroes in time for them to escape.

The negroes did not know the name of the mail pilot but declared he saved their lives.

St. Paul, Minn., September 27.—(AP) As the crowd jammed into the municipal auditorium here howled its approval, Gov. Smith tonight tore into his republican opposition on three scores—farm relief, inland waterway development and immigration.

Time and again, despite his appeals to the audience not to eat up radio time with demonstrations, the democratic presidential nominee was cheered to the echo.

Doors to the auditorium were opened three hours before the time Gov. Smith was to begin speaking. Twenty minutes later they were closed. The hall was jammed, to the rafters, and only a few hundred with tickets were able to squeeze through the stage entrance, around which a thousand or more persons were massed, all struggling to get in. Some of the members of the nominee's traveling party who had preceded him were unable to fight their way into the hall.

Entire Section for Smith.
Police estimated that there were at least 13,000 people in the auditorium here before Smith left his nearby hotel. There was plenty of band music and at one time everybody in the hall stood up and joined in a round of "East Side, West Side."

L. C. Hodges, cooperative mayor of St. Paul, stirred up round after round of deafening cheering with a preliminary speech. One outbreak came when he referred to tonight's meeting as "the greatest political rally in the history of Minnesota."

Hodges introduced Andrew Nelson, the democratic nominee for governor, and the hall rocked with cheers when he predicted a Smith landslide with Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin all lining up for him. Nelson was one of those who seconded Gov. Smith's nomination at Houston.

While Nelson was speaking the crowd on the outside trying to get started pounding on the walls of the auditorium, and finally a wedge broke through one of the entrances. A few disheveled men and women were landed inside the already packed hall.

Georgia's Country Fiddlers To Gather in Atlanta Today

Georgia's native musicians, the country fiddlers of a score of counties, will gather in Atlanta today for their fifteenth annual championship contest, and tonight and tomorrow night the rafters of the big auditorium will vibrate in unison with the strains of "Arkansas Traveler" and "Sugar in the Gourd." Between 50 and 100 aspirants for the championship gold medal, now worn by Fiddlin' John Carson, are expected to compete. Professor Aleck Smart, for many years master of ceremonies at the Atlanta fiddlers' conventions, arrived from his home in Meriwether county Thursday and paid a call at the office of The Constitution to pay his respects and announce the plans for the biggest fiddlers' meeting in the history of the Georgia Old-Time Fiddlers' association.

Fiddlin' John Carson, the present champion, will defend his title, of course. Old Tanager, noted entertainer, and Earl Johnson, former champions, have entered for the fray. The Lindale string orchestra will provide entertainment and play for the square dances, and a number of banjo players and specialists on various instruments have been added to the program.

Sessions of the fiddlers' convention will begin at the auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight and Saturday night, and a special performance for the "old folks and young-uns," as Professor Smart explained, will begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The public will be welcomed, a small admission fee being charged to cover the expenses and cash prizes.

Employees of Metropolitan Life Pay Tribute to Atlanta Manager.

On the occasion of his fifty-fourth birthday, which marked 28 years of service with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, George H. Phillips,

GEORGE H. PHILLIPS.

Atlanta manager, was tendered a surprise banquet Thursday night at the Henry Grady hotel by employees of the branch office here.

Honor guests at the banquet, attended by some 125 Metropolitan employees and their wives, included Governor L. G. Hardman, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin.

Mr. Phillips was presented with a handsome traveling bag in behalf of employees by Supervisor Bruce Carrier, representative of the home office, while Mayor Ragsdale acted as spokesman in presenting Mrs. Phillips with an elaborate floral bouquet.

In a short address Governor Hardman touched on the prosperity of Georgia, and declared that life insurance had contributed much to the financial welfare of the state by fostering habits of foresight and thrift among the people of the state. Mayor Ragsdale also addressed the gathering. Mr. Phillips has been branch manager here for almost a quarter of a century, and is widely-known throughout Atlanta and the southeast.

Raymond O'Quinn, of the Atlanta office, acted toastmaster at the banquet.

Continued fair weather with stable temperatures is ahead of Atlanta and north Georgia, but rains are expected to develop over southern sections of the state early today, according to the forecast Thursday of G. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the government bureau here.

A moderating trend of temperatures was shown in the extreme Thursday of 56 and 78 degrees, which went several notches above those of the previous day.

Exceptionally cold weather prevails in the northwest, Mr. von Herrmann said, although there is little prospect of these disturbances influencing conditions here.

POWER COMPANY WINS IN $50,000 SUIT FOR DAMAGE

The Georgia Power company was victor Thursday in trial of a $50,000 suit brought by Mrs. Cammie Jones in Judge E. E. Fomery's division of Fulton superior court for the death of her husband, W. H. Jones.

Mrs. Jones had set out that her husband was electrocuted when his saw came in contact with a high-voltage wire while he was working on a building at North avenue and Plum street. The power company contended that the wire which electrocuted Jones was not the property of the company, but that of the manufacturer.

Tooth paste buys a muffler for Dad

It sounds mysterious—but isn't. Do a little arithmetic with us and find out. The average dentifrice costs you 50¢. You use about a tube a month. Twelve times fifty equals six dollars, the yearly cost. Listerine Tooth Paste costs 25¢ (the large tube). Twelve times twenty-five equals three dollars. All right. Six dollars minus three dollars equals three dollars, your annual saving. Spend it as you please. The muffler is merely a suggestion. You have a thousand alternatives. Hosiery, for instance, or gloves, or handkerchiefs.

Not by price alone did this dentifrice seize popularity

WHAT accounts for the immediate success of this speedy new dentifrice? Certainly not the price alone.

While it is true that at 25¢ Listerine Tooth Paste accomplishes an average saving of three dollars a year per person, over dentifrices costing double that amount, this would not carry it so quickly to a position among the leaders.

It is the combination of outstanding quality, unquestioned results, and a reasonable price, that has done the trick.

Naturally, such a price for such a paste is made possible only by ultra-modern methods of manufacture and mass production. We urge you to try Listerine Tooth Paste. It will be a revelation to you.

Note how white it makes your teeth. How gently it polishes them—yet how speedily. Note, too, how cool, sweet and refreshed your mouth feels long after the brushing is over—that cleanly taste you associate with Listerine.

We are proud of this product, and we ask you to compare it with any paste, at any price and judge by results alone. At all druggists. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckleface, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes your freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drug or department store and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.—(adv.)

LISTERINE TOOTH PASTE

FINAL DETAILS READY FOR OPENING OF FAIR

Gates To Go Open at 8 O'Clock Saturday Morning.

Featuring one of the most complete educational, agricultural, live stock, entertainment and amusement programs ever offered in this section of the country, officials of the South-eastern fair today will complete final and minute details for the big exposition which will open at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at Lakewood Park.

Arthur L. Brooke, president, and Oscar Mills, secretary and manager, spent much of Thursday afternoon inspecting the many exhibit booths now being completed and checking over in general the workings of the fair. Only a few minor details remain to be worked out before city and state officials will officially open the 1928 event.

Exhibits are rapidly being placed in order and late Thursday afternoon several carloads of exhibits from out-of-town were placed on the Lakewood siding and ready for installation today.

Beehive of Industry.

Lakewood Park today will be a beehive of the screeching of saws, rumbling of boards and driving of nails in the final rush to be ready for the opening. A small army of workmen has lost no time during the past few days completing preparations for the fair.

One of the features of the 1928 fair will be the excellent school exhibits, especially one from the Georgia School of Technology. There will be sixteen departments of Georgia Tech represented and every phase of the school life will be depicted in the big exhibit under the supervision of R. S. King, head of the mechanical department.

A small workshop showing the work of the night school students will be presented by the evening school of applied science while the evening school of commerce will show "a model office" in operation.

Mechanical Exhibit.

An illuminated boiler in operation will be shown by the mechanical engineering department while the civil engineering department will exhibit a number of road making materials and tests for materials. The chemistry department will show all the steps in a manufacturing process and the electrical engineering department will display a number of tests in compressed air. Souvenirs and wooden trinkets made in the wood shops will be given away by the shops department.

An information booth for the South-eastern fair in general will be conducted by the Georgia Tech commerce department.

A number of textiles and cloth designs made at Tech will be shown by the textile department.

Other departments included in the Tech exhibit will be the electrical department, the ceramics department, the military department, and the athletic association.

Many of the architectural designs with which Georgia Tech students won national intercollegiate contests for the past six years will be on exhibition at the fair.

WOMEN APPROVE ENLARGEMENT PLAN FOR BATTLE HILL

After Dr. J. H. Bradford, superintendent of the Battle Hill sanatorium, had outlined the condition at his institution before a recent meeting of the Atlanta Civic council that body unanimously voted to sponsor a movement for the enlarging and improving of the hospital, it was announced Thursday.

Following Dr. Bradford's address, in which he vividly told of the crying need for improved facilities, a general discussion was held. Representatives from the Parent-Teacher council, several labor organizations, the League of Women Voters, the W. C. T. U., the women's Grady hospital board and several other organizations were present and the vote was taken following a general discussion by these representatives.

Deciding that the more than 200 persons who are on the waiting list for admittance to the institution must be taken care of and holding that it is impossible even to provide properly for the present patients, the body went on record as favoring a bond issue to enhance the facilities. The council indicated its approval of a bond issue, up to a million dollars, for the hospital but made the qualification that nothing else should be attached to such an issue.

Revival Meeting.

Revival services are being conducted this week at the Gordon Street Presbyterian church by Dr. Arthur Bishop, of Athens, with morning meetings at 10 o'clock and night services at 7:45 o'clock. Dr. Bishop's sermon tonight will be on "Evangelism in the Sunday School."

COUPLE DENIED BOND IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Prosecution to Charge That Mother of Woman Held
Died of Poisoning.

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 27.—(Special.)—Application for release on bonds was denied today by Judge D. A. R. Crum, sitting in chambers at Cordele in the case of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin, being held in connection with the death recently of Mrs. Mollie Harnish, mother of Mrs. Martin.

Following an autopsy conducted by a coroner's jury the couple were ordered held for investigation of the grand jury, it being alleged that traces of poison were found in the dead woman's viscera. Mrs. Harnish died here September 12.

Solicitor-General J. Hoyt Davis appeared for the state and Sheriff Dorniney brought witnesses for the state, which included Judge J. R. Horton, Coroner W. R. Dykes, Constable J. W. Scarborough and Mrs. Jerusha Lee Harnish, daughter-in-law of the deceased. Judge D. E. Griffin appeared for the defense with Miss Ruth Martin, Mrs. Zerma Johnston, of St. Petersburg.

The case will come before the next grand jury, which meets here Monday, October 8, the accused remaining in the custody of Sheriff Dorniney.

Court Rules Printed.

Printed copies of the revised rules governing procedure in the municipal court were mailed Thursday to attorneys in Fulton county. Judge Luther Z. Rosser, presiding judge, announced. Few changes are contained in the new rules, most of the revision being a simplification of existing methods.

ORPHANAGE APPEAL

"Work Day" of Methodist
Home Set for Saturday.

The annual "Work day" of the Methodist orphanage of the South Georgia conference, located at Macon, will be held Saturday, and at that time all persons interested are urged to send their contributions to the orphanage.

There are 142 children now in this establishment being cared for and educated entirely through voluntary contributions. The orphanage, while it bears the name of the Methodist church, is non-sectarian in its benefits and ministers to unfortunate youngsters of all religions. In the 56 years it has been established it has cared for thousands of children.

The "Work day" is put but once a year and at this time all of the officials of the orphanage try to interest those who are interested in this particular sort of practical charity.

TALMADGE SEES
750,000-BALE CROP
FOR STATE IN 1928

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, Thursday said reports he had gathered indicate the Georgia cotton crop for 1928 has been cut to "not exceeding 750,000 bales." The commissioner attributed the estimated decline in production to effects of the recent storm and early frosts in north Georgia.

"This is 200,000 or 300,000 bales short of what the outlook was for the crop sixty days ago," the commissioner added.

RAINEY IS ELECTED AS VICE CHAIRMAN OF PRISON BOARD

The prison commission of Georgia Thursday announced that increasing duties confronting it had made the creation of the office of vice chairman necessary. Judge Eugene L. Rainey, for 15 years a member of the commission, has been elected to the post and has assumed office. Judge Rainey, for 16 years a member of the lower house of the legislature of Georgia, is from Dawson. Judge R. E. Davison is chairman of the commission.

POLICE BAND APPEAL IS STILL $500 SHORT

Many Pledges Remain Unfilled in Drive for $6,000.

The Atlanta Police band Thursday night was short $500 of the $6,000 sought for traveling expenses to Cuba, where the local organization will participate in the Spanish-American War Veterans reunion, October 7-12 at Havana.

Numerous pledges remain unfilled, it was said Thursday by C. F. Dieter, vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Councilman James E. Bowden, chairman of the ways and means committee behind the appeal, who urged that delinquents pay up as soon as possible.

"The participation of the Atlanta band in the reunion will be a valuable advertisement for Atlanta," declared Sam C. Crane, chairman of a committee here seeking a government hospital for soldiers and sailors of all wars.

Mr. Crane said that this show of interest on the part of Atlanta would strengthen the local claim for the government hospital. He urges that citizens cooperate to put the drive "over the top."

ENTOMOLOGY POST IS JOINTLY OCCUPIED

Both Yeomans and Worsham Claim Position of Director.

The state department of entomology Thursday entered its third consecutive day with the seat of direction jointly occupied by two men who claimed to be legal appointees to office.

Neither of the three figures, Manning S. Yeomans, appointed by the entomology board Tuesday to succeed R. Lee Worsham as chief entomologist, or Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, who led the move to oust the deposed official, added materially to previous statements.

Both Yeomans and Worsham were alternately at the state entomologist's desk this morning, and repeated claims that nothing but the best feeling prevailed between them. Worsham, a classmate of Talmadge at the University of Georgia, said he had left all maneuvers planned to regain his office in the hands of his attorney. Meanwhile expected to remain at his desk, he said.

Yeomans said he had not sought the office, and pointed out the three principal figures in the controversy were members of the same national fraternity, in advancing a claim that nothing but "plans for the good of the office" prompted the commissioner of agriculture in his ouster move. The commissioner acted with W. T. Hollis, newly appointed entomologist board member, to bring about the appointment of Yeomans, the two of them constituting a quorum of the board.

'POWER TRUST' FLAYED BY MACHINISTS' BODY

Association, Adjourning, Favors Public Ownership of Utilities.

The International Association of Machinists, before closing its convention here Thursday noon, went on record as condemning the "power trust" for alleged activities in "spreading propaganda through the schools" of the country. Members of the executive council and the law committee will remain in conference for several days at the Baltimore hotel, where the convention has been in session since the first of last week.

The convention proper, which brought together about 400 delegates from various sections of America, was adjourned by International President A. O. Wharton following Thursday morning's business session. Officials declared the meeting just closed to have been the "most constructive in the history of the association." In a resolution the convention declared that the federal radio commission had "entailed the voice of labor," when it cut down the power of the broadcasting station of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

Various United States senators described as leading the fight for federal control of power developments were commended by the machinists.

Pounds of solid, healthy flesh, restored health and vitality—no money back! Need we say more?

The name McCoy's Cold Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just shortened—for McCoy's Tablets at Jacobs' Drug Stores or any drug store in America. (adv.)

among them George W. Norris, Hiram Johnson and Thomas Walsh.

This resolution said in part that the machinists "favor public ownership of all public utilities and will in the future combat any private corporation seeking control of a public utility."

"Domestic users in the United States," the resolution charged, "pay an average of 7.4 cents per kilowatt hour, as compared with the 2 cent rate in Ontario under the public-owned plant."

"It has been definitely ascertained that over $1,500,000,000 has been spent for propaganda purposes to further the interests of the power trust," the resolution said in conclusion.

ATHENS MAN ELECTED PECAN GROWERS' HEAD

Macoon, Ga., September 27.—(AP)—The National Pecan Growers' association closed its annual convention here today with the election of Dr. T. S. McHaffon, Athens, president, and the selection of Ardmore, Okla., as the 1929 convention city. Dr. McHaffon is head of the horticultural department of the state college of agriculture.

Other officers elected were: J. H. Fullilove, Shreveport, La., first vice president; H. H. Simmons, Jacksonville, Fla., second vice president; Lloyd Adams, Spring Hill, Ala., secretary-treasurer. The executive committee consists of: J. M. Patterson, Albany, Ga.; M. Hull, Baton Rouge, La.; A. Simpson, Monticello, Fla.; Theo. Bechtel, Owen Springs, Miss.; J. A. Evans, Arlington, Texas.

One of the resolutions adopted provided that the place of meeting will be held one year east of the Mississippi river and the next year west of it. The advertising committee reported favorably on national campaigns such as other growers have. The committee on tariff recommended that the tariff on pecans in the shell be raised from three to six cents and that on shelled pecans the tariff be elevated from six to fifteen cents.

The committee on varieties of pecans announced that the six leading varieties for orchardists are Stewart pecans, first; Schley, second; Success, third; Money-maker, fourth; Frater, fifth; and Palmetto, sixth.

The committee on federal aid asked for additional money for experimental work.

The date for the next convention will be the second Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of September.

J. H. Wells was made second vice president for Florida.

WOMAN UNDERGOES SECOND OPERATION FOR CHILDBIRTH

After undergoing a second Caesarean operation in two years, Mrs. Wylie J. Kilgore, 22, of 830 Cascade avenue, S. W., and her infant daughter were reported "doing nicely" Thursday night at Grady hospital, where the youngster was ushered into the world Wednesday afternoon by hospital surgeons.

The baby weighed four pounds and five ounces at birth, and was perfectly normal in other respects, hospital attaches declared.

When her son, Wylie, Jr., was born in September of two years ago, Mrs. Kilgore underwent her first operation. The child now enjoys perfect health, and will visit his little sister as soon as hospital regulations permit.

10 TO 20 YEARS GIVEN BY JUDGE TO DAVE HARDEN

Burglary of three homes cost Dave Harden 10 to 20 years in the pen Thursday when he entered a plea of guilty to the charges in Fulton superior court. Judge E. D. Thomas sentenced Harden to 5 to 10 years for stealing clothes from the home of Bell Rudison, at 59 Hilliard, N. E., and 5 to 10 years for stealing clothes and a clock from Jack Potts, of 202 Elliott street. The third charge, that of burglarizing the home of Frank Burns, at 230 Jackson, brought a term of 2 to 10 years, to run concurrently with the other sentences, the first two sentences being consecutive.

Two motorcades are being planned to bring delegates to the twelfth annual convention of the Bankhead National Highway association, which meets in Atlanta October 9 for a two-day session. It was announced Thursday by J. H. Rountree, of Birmingham, director of the association.

Delegates from towns and cities along the highway to the east and west of Atlanta are being organized for the motorcades, which are scheduled to arrive here in time for the first meeting at 11 o'clock on the morning of October 9.

Representatives have already been appointed from Bartow, Lawrenceville, Winder, Athens, Carrollton and Bowdon, Ga., Mr. Rountree announced.

Declaration of War On "Quail Bootleggers"

Declared by H. M. Keen

A declaration of war on "bootleggers of quail" marked the entry into office of Fulton county game warden of Harold M. Keen, youthful Atlantian named by State Game and Fish Commissioner Peter S. Twitty to succeed Horace G. Bridges. Mr. Bridges has been made a special state deputy of game and fish department with headquarters at Athens.

The new Fulton county warden, for the past five years one of Commissioner Twitty's special assistants, has announced that his organization for the enforcement of the wild life laws will embrace special men employed for the particular purpose of squelching the "bootleggers" of quail.

With the announcement of Mr. Keen's appointment as game warden, Mr. Twitty also announced that E. C. Adams, of Atlanta, has been named a field deputy and special investigator for the department. While Mr. Adams will devote most of his time to patrol and special police work in Fulton county, he will also supervise the work of game wardens and deputies in the counties touching Fulton.

THREE ARE BAPTIZED.

Goodpasture became pastor September 1.

RADIO-ING THE AIR WAVES

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

One of the most familiar voices on the air is that of Milton J. Cross, senior announcer of station WJZ, New York. From the first, Cross has specialized on the better and more classical type of program and his interesting comments on compositions and composers have been a source of musical education to thousands of listeners.

Cross, who was born in New York city in 1897, after his graduation from the DeWitt Clinton High school in that city, completed the music supervisor's course of the Damrosch Institute of Musical Art, and thus laid the foundation for his extensive musical knowledge.

After completing his musical education, Cross toured for several seasons with the Paulist chorists, during which time he covered the entire eastern portion of the United States. After this, he devoted himself to church and concert work and sang in the First Presbyterian church of New York and as a member of the quartet of the Progressive Synagogue of Brooklyn. He was one of the pioneer broadcasters, appearing repeatedly before the microphone of WJZ, its early days, and then later became a member of its staff. In addition to his work as chief announcer of WJZ, Cross has distinguished himself for his excellent performance as first tenor of the Stromberg-Carlson quartet, an organization whose Friday evening presentation of favorite vocal music of the better class over WSB and the NBC system is one of radio's best liked features.

"Pale Hands," sometimes known as "Kashmiri Song," one of the best known of the series of poems "Indian Love Lyrics" of Amy Woodford Finden, and generally presented as a vocal number, will be played as a saxophone solo as one of the high points of the Stromberg-Carlson program for this evening from 8 to 8:30 o'clock, presented through WSB and stations associated with the NBC. A wide variety of airs will be sung by the male quartet and the "Song of Love" from the popular operetta "Blossom Time" is scheduled for the vibraphone solo.

The complete program follows: "Down on the Farm," quartet. "Stand Lee," quartet. "Nellie Was a Lady," quartet. "Song of Love," (Blossom Time), Vibraphone solo. "Genevieve," quartet. "I've Been Working on the Railroad," quartet. "Pale Hands," saxophone solo. "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet," quartet. "Schilium," quartet. "Old Fashioned Garden," quartet. "Some Folks Say," quartet.

"Truth is stranger than fiction," even among the high peaks of the White Mountains, as the radio audience will learn when they listen to the True Story hour to be broadcast by the Columbia system at 7 o'clock tonight.

The beauty of the White Mountains will be portrayed in the music of a travelogue which constitutes the first part of the True Story hour, while the latter half of the hour is to be devoted to the dramatized version of the true story that is told to Mary and Bob. It concerns a man, who, for the sake of his family, struggled against overwhelming odds. But, unfortunately, for, as he later learned, he was, and had been even during his struggle, a rich man.

The program will come over: WOR, New York; WEAN, Providence; WNAZ, Boston; WSPD, Toledo; WPMI, Syracuse; WMAK, Buffalo; WKRC, Cincinnati; KOIL, Council Bluffs; WGHP, Detroit; WMAQ, Chicago; KMOX, St. Louis; WCAO, Baltimore; KMBZ, Kansas City; WAFB, Columbus; WADW, Akron; WOWO, Fort Wayne; WMAF, South Dartmouth; WJAS, Pittsburgh; WCAU, Philadelphia; and WCCC, Bridgeport.

The details of this ironical story which appears in the October issue of True Story Magazine under the title, "One Man's Meat Is Another Man's Poison," will be told first-hand to the two young adventurers by a woman who watched the experience unfold. She will be met by Mary and Bob at a country fair in the state New Hampshire.

The radio dramatization will be preceded in the True Story hour by musical selections from the country fair grounds which are to be visited by Mary and Bob as they continue their nation-wide tour.

Two numbers from musical shows will be sung by the Quaker Girl as soprano solos during the Armstrong duet with Miss Peterson, "Dear Love of Mine" from Goring Thomas' "Nadasha." "The Last Movement" of Beethoven's Quartet, Op. 18, and the now famous "Londonderry Air" are to be played by the Lenox string quartet, while the National Concert orchestra is heard in accompaniments for the vocal solos and in a special arrangement of Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois" with words sung by Judson House.

Karl Maria von Weber's "Invitation to the Dance," has been chosen by the United Salon orchestra to open their program to be broadcast by the Columbia system at 8 o'clock tonight. The orchestra is to be heard in numbers by Cui, Svendsen, Chopin, Greig, Moszkowski, Sibelius, Tschai-kowsky, and Schubert.

A feature of the program will be a saxophone solo by Felix Vivier. Mr. Vivier is to play Chopin's "Valse Brillante," accompanied by the United Salon orchestra.

Effects of radio

ORDER POINTED OUT

(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Syndicate.) Washington, D. C., September 27. The practical effects of the federal radio commission's order restricting the operation of chain stations may be illustrated by the example of stations WJZ, Springfield, Mass., and WTIC, Hartford, Conn. They will be prevented from taking more than one hour of any chain program that is also offered by a New York station of 5,000 watts power or more.

Because they are less than 300 miles from New York city and from each other, they may not give their audiences the New York program, on the theory that their listeners can as readily tune in the New York station.

Similar situations will exist as between high-power stations in such cities as New York and Baltimore, Schenectady and Rochester, Cleveland and Detroit, Louisville and Nashville, and San Francisco and Oakland, among others. In fact, of the 55 members of the NBC network, 27 are operating with power of 5,000 watts or more, or have construction permits to build transmitters with such power.

23 to suffer most.

Twenty-three of these will have full or part-time assignments after November 11, on the cleared channels, and the hardship wrought by the chain order will be suffered mostly by them.

Thus any one of the following stations will not be able to duplicate programs for more than one hour nightly, if it happens to be within 300 miles of another.

WEAF, New York; WJZ, New York; WBZ, Springfield, Mass.; WTIC, Hartford, Conn.; WBAI, Baltimore; WQV, Schenectady; WHAM, Rochester; KDKA, Pittsburgh; WRVA, Richmond; WJR, Detroit; WLW-WSAI, Cincinnati; WGN, Chicago; KYW-WEBB, Chicago; WCCO, Minneapolis; KOA, Denver; WLAS, Louisville; WSM, Nashville; WSB, Atlanta; WFAX, Dallas; WHAF, Fort Worth; KFO, San Francisco; KGO, Oakland, and KFI, Los Angeles.

The theory of the chain order is that, if applied only to the high power stations on the cleared waves, it would prevent identical programs from coming in at more than one point on the receiving set dial.

Theory attacked by chains.

This theory is attacked by the chain people. While it is true that high power broadcasting will often bring in different stations with the same program at different points on the dial, it was insisted that this is not always the case.

The principle of preventing duplication was lauded, but the establishment of an arbitrary spacing of 300 miles was opposed. Peculiar regional atmospheric conditions, the geographical contour of certain sections of the country and the location of innumerable "dead spots," where distance and sometimes local reception is impossible, were cited as a few reasons why the distance limit should not be fixed by an arbitrary geographical standard.

Dr. Goldsmith declared that no station enjoys a consistent service range of 300 miles, and showed how listeners in between the high power stations and on the fringes of the 300-mile radius might be shut out. He pointed out that the actual service limit of the highest powered station is about 150 miles, since fading inevitably occurs beyond that point.

RED CROSS LEADERS GATHER IN ATLANTA FOR ANNUAL MEET

Over 100 leaders of Red Cross work in north and central Georgia gathered Thursday at the Atlanta Athletic club for the annual regional conference. Dr. Thomas E. Green, director of the Red Cross speakers' service, delivered the principal address.

The day's activities included a business meeting in the morning, followed with a general luncheon at noon and a visit during the afternoon to the government hospital, No. 48, on Peachtree road.

CARNES CIRCULAR TO BE BROADCAST WITHIN FEW DAYS

Two thousand circulars advertising a $5,000 reward for Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Baptist home mission board, who is under two grand jury indictments for embezzlement, were received from the printer Thursday by John A. Boykin, solicitor-general, and will be broadcast through the mails within the next few days to police authorities in many cities.

The circulars bear a photograph of Carnes, a specimen of his signature, and his thumb prints, as well as a complete description. The circulars give Carnes' age as 50 years, his height as six feet, one-half inch; his eyes, brown; hair, dark brown, gray at temples, and complexion, dark. He has the habit when wearing his hat of continuously fingering the front brim and changing its position, the circulars state.

More circulars will be printed as soon as the present supply is exhausted, Mr. Boykin said. Authority for the printing of the circulars and mailing them was given several days ago by the county commission. Mr. Boykin said that the $5,000 reward is being offered by the home mission board and the bonding company.

Carnes disappeared on August 15, and since that time has been exposed as a former inmate of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, where he served time for mail fraud.

FORMER GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA ILL

Tuscaloosa, Ala., September 27.—

(AP)—Judge William W. Brandon, probate judge of Tuscaloosa county and former governor of Alabama, who was stricken suddenly ill yesterday, was a patient in Druid City hospital here today, where attendants reported his condition satisfactory. Judge Brandon's illness was attributed to overstrain in the current presidential campaign in which he has taken an active part as chairman of the democratic campaign speakers' bureau.

EVEREADY

Radio Sets

Amazing realism—scientifically proved by the

Eveready Fidelity Curve

IT TOOK three years to do it, but it's out at last! ... A radio set that eclipses all expectations ... a set so good it sounds like life itself ... a set worthy of the Eveready name!

Three years and many thousands of dollars were spent by the National Carbon Company in perfecting this set. No chances were taken. Since the first days of radio, Eveready Batteries have been the standard of excellence. Now, in entering the field with a receiving set, the National Carbon Company was determined to bring out something that would excel. Something as outstanding in its field as Eveready Radio Batteries are in theirs.

The new Eveready Radio Sets are the result. Both in performance and appearance they are the most advanced ever produced. They are beautiful to see, and a joy to hear.

They represent a new high-water mark in radio.

You can have either all-electric or battery type

The new Eveready Receiving Sets are of both types—all-electric, or battery operation. Both will give you a realism in reproduction that will simply astonish you. You will hear the human voice, orchestras, dance music, as though you were there in person. You will hear every instrument in its proper pitch and tone quality, without over-emphasis or distortion. You can even catch the whisper of an in-drawn breath!

The engineers can prove all this to you with charts and figures. They have plotted the Eveready Fidelity Curve—a scientifically calculated graph which reveals in actual, measured frequencies the amazing similarity between Eveready reproduction and the original. This chart has been published; any Eveready dealer can show it to you. It is just one more confirmation of what your own ears will tell you. Eveready radio reproduction is remarkably lifelike!

And your eye has an equal treat in store for it! The cabinets of the new Eveready Radio Sets are fresh in design and construction, and beautiful to behold.

The new Eveready cabinet styles are beautiful and distinctive

Take the popular maple finish, for example. It's a new, bright note in the well-planned interior, very much in the vogue, and of enduring charm. Interior decorators are using a great deal of maple, these days, to relieve the monotony of an all-mahogany or walnut setting. The popularity of maple is on the increase. Eveready is the first to introduce a radio cabinet in keeping with this vogue.

Or, if you prefer, you can have your cabinet in mahogany, which is always popular, and always in good taste.

Only Eveready can give you these die-cast aluminum cabinets

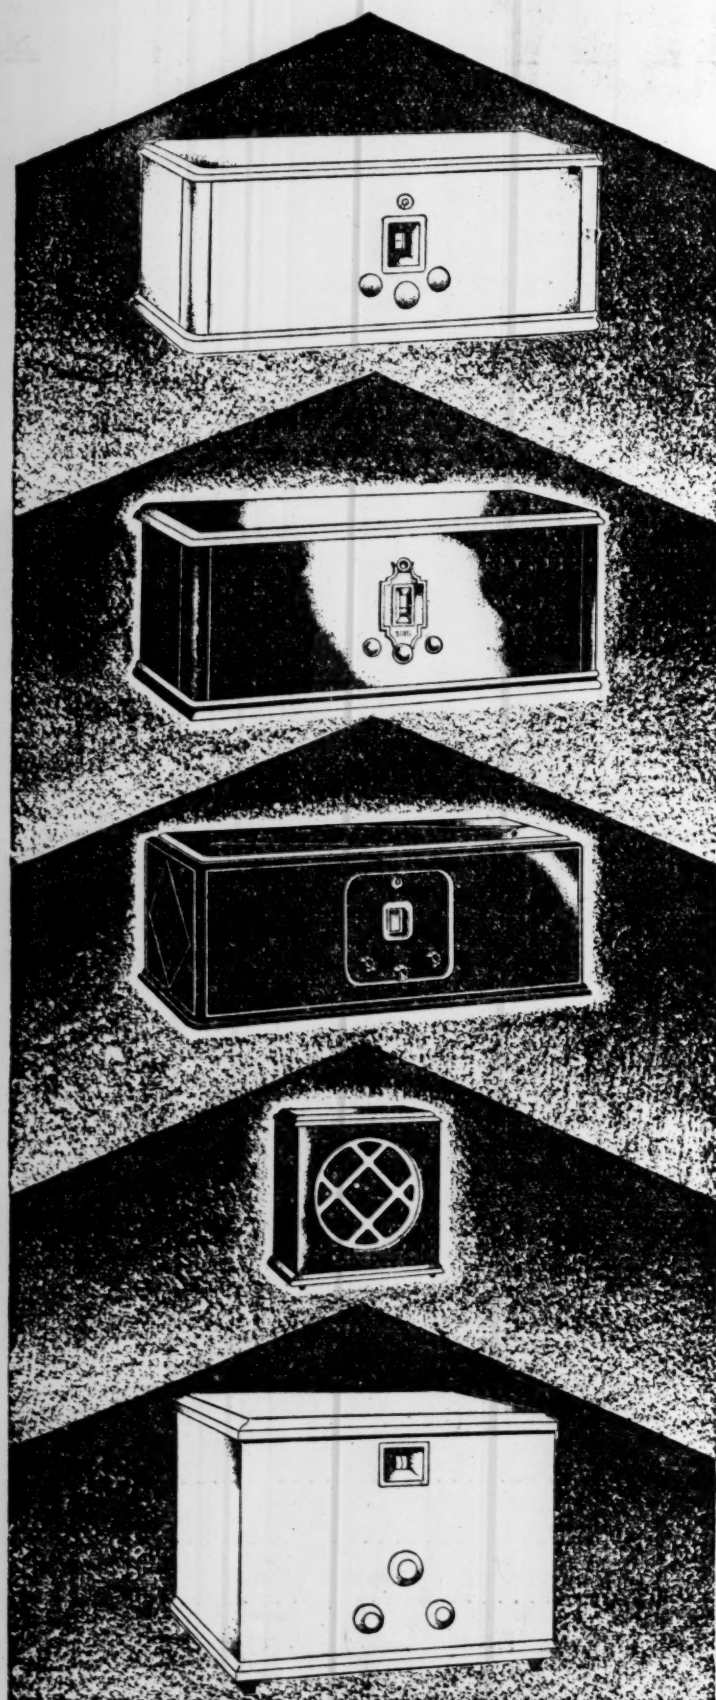

Another interesting innovation in Eveready cabinet design is the new cabinet of die-cast aluminum. This is cast under tremendous pressure, in one piece, and lacquered green with stripings in silvery natural aluminum. It is light, strong and virtually everlasting—an entirely new and fashionable note in radio cabinet design. And you can get it only with an Eveready set.

Eveready Radio Sets are now on sale. Whether or not you have a radio, you owe it to yourself to hear this great set—and the Eveready Speaker, designed to match. Any Eveready dealer will gladly give you a demonstration, without the slightest obligation to you. To hear this new radio set will be a pleasure and a revelation. Enjoy it today!

THE NIGHTMARE

By GERALD MYGATT

SYNOPSIS.

Patricia Shaw is being entertained in one of New York's night clubs by Fanning Edgier. She is annoyed by the insulting stare of a handsome man on the opposite side of the room. At the table with the Hawk are a blonde, coarse looking woman and a slight young man who appears to be drunk. The head waiter calls young Edgier away from his table on a pretext, and as soon as he is gone the Hawk approaches Patricia and tries to engage her in conversation. He is interrupted by a good looking young chap who orders him back to his place. The newcomer introduces himself as Jimmie Kirklin. Patricia tells Kirklin that she thinks the hawk-nosed person had asked the head waiter to get rid of her escort. A fight ensues and Fanning Edgier walks in on it. He pays the head waiter to restore order and Patricia introduces Kirklin to him and then asks Fanning to take her home. A few minutes later, as Kirklin leaves the place with his companion, he is followed by a man on the street who appears to be drunk. The hawk-nosed person, known as Bart Stoman, after taking the blonde woman home, makes for his secret hideout and there goes over a number of old newspaper clippings.

INSTALLMENT XI.
AN OLD NEWS CLIPPING.
With a smile of anticipation Stoman spread the sheet upon his knee and took in the startling headlines:
MILLION-DOLLAR REWARD FOR MISSING HEIRESS

Father, Prostrated by Grief, Announces $1,000,000 Cash Award Restorer of Sylvia La Veery, Vanished Five Weeks Ago Today.

NO PROSECUTION; IMMUNITY PLEDGED

Police Double Efforts, U. S. Government Aids Search—Suspects Grilled—Child's Governess, Freed of Blame, Recovering in Bellevue Hospital From Shock of Favorite's Disappearance—New Clues Support Kidnaping Theory.

The hawk-nosed man savored these headlines as if he might have been a gourmet savoring the bouquet of a rare vintage. He read them again. Then he read on:

A reward of one million dollars for the return to her home of Sylvia La Veery, missing sugar heiress, was offered today by Colonel Claudius La Veery, aged father of the vanished girl, in a statement to the press and the public, given out at the offices of Scoppis, Henry, Dollis and Cohen, attorneys for the stricken sugar king. A check for $1,000,000, the largest reward of its kind ever offered by a citizen of any country, has been prepared in blank. This check will be signed and turned over to the person, man, woman or child, who returns the missing Sylvia alive and well to the paternal mansion on Riverside drive.

No questions will be asked, says Colonel La Veery. When interviewed this noon by a reporter from this newspaper the sugar monarch showed himself to be a broken man, a man crushed by grief. He lay on his bed with the windows open upon the far reaches of the Hudson river, and while he talked in a feeble voice he was fanned constantly by an attentive white-clad nurse.

"I decided upon this reward a week ago," said the sugar emperor frankly when interviewed. "I took it up with my attorneys, Scoppis, Henry, Dollis and Cohen, and had them prepare the papers in legal form. It is five weeks ago since my daughter disappeared."

At an expression of sympathy from the interviewer the sugar captain went on: "I am, as you see, a broken man. Sylvia was all I had. She did not run away. She never had any reason to run away. We were so happy together. You see, her mother died when she was born. My little girl was my everything, my all. She is worth a million, not many times a million if I had it to give." He waited a minute and added softly: "I wish I had."

A dejected question brought him back to the reward. "I am offering one million dollars," he stated firmly. "If it goes to a deserving person, a lucky discoverer of my daughter's whereabouts, I shall be very happy. If it goes to a crook, a felon, a kidnaper, I must rest content. I shall stand by my promise of no questions asked. I promise not to prosecute."

I promise immunity. All I ask, all I want is the return of my little girl."

The following statement to the press was given out this morning at the offices of Scoppis, Henry, Dollis and Cohen, attorneys for the bereaved sugar widower: "Our client, Colonel Claudius La Veery, has authorized the announcement of a reward of one million dollars, in cash, to be paid immediately and without question upon the return, alive and well, of his daughter, Sylvia La Veery, who was last seen and last recognized by the traffic policeman at the corner of Broadway and Seventy-second street at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, five weeks ago this day."

"The sum of this reward is to be paid in a single certified check or in cash, and may be elected to the person or persons bringing Miss La Veery to her father's home. It is pledged by Colonel La Veery and by this office on our mutual honor that there will be no questions asked, no arrest attempted and no prosecution. There are no strings to this reward, no qualifications. It is simply the final effort of a broken-hearted father to insure his beloved daughter's safe return."

At the district attorney's office Assistant District Attorney O'Kieffe declined to comment upon the possible legal aspects of the reward. It was gathered from a reliable source, however, that the district attorney's office, in view of the circumstances, would not be inclined to take official cognizance of the million-dollar offer. That such a reward could in any way be considered in the light of the compounding of felony was scouted, and it was hinted that any offer of a reward, as well as the complete terms of any such reward, were necessarily a private and not a public affair.

"It the girl has been kidnaped," said Mr. O'Kieffe, "this office and the police will find her. What is more, the kidnapers will get their full 50 years in state's prison. On the other hand, if the girl is returned to her father the case, as far as we are concerned, may fairly be considered closed."

No disappearance of recent years has stunned the great American public so profoundly as that of a lovely little 14-year-old, Sylvia Marie La Veery, who danced out of her home one sunny morning just five weeks ago—and since that day has never been seen. Her millionaire father, the well known Colonel Claudius La Veery, sugar magnate, yachtsman and philanthropist, lies at death's door. The police—

"Wait a minute, wait a minute," said Bart Stoman aloud and irritably. "I don't want to read all that tripe. He skimmed the page with his eyes, muttering the while: 'Yeh, I know, police busy. Scotland Yard—bunk! Captain Ghill of Central office—bunk! Cop at Seventy-second and Broadway—bunk! Lonely father—bunk! Beautiful home—bunk! Not interested in boys—bunk! Three foreigners arrested—bunk! Now, his eyes flickered and he smiled. 'Hm! Queenie got her publicity, all right—yeh, and three weeks in a nice, swell hospital room, free of charge. Huh, look at this! The widowed Mrs. Theodora Allison, beautiful governess of the missing child—her best friend—O, bunk! Allison, hell! If Queenie didn't get that name out of a telephone book I'm a seven-tube set. Bunk! What the hell is that description? That's what I want. O, yeh!'"

And again he read: "When last seen little Sylvia was wearing tan felt hat, tan one-piece dress with brown suede belt, flesh colored silk stockings and black patent leather pumps. If she has been kidnaped this clothing in all likelihood has been changed."

Fourteen years 2 months. Height, average. Eyes light gray, shading into blue or into green, sometimes one, sometimes the other. Eyelashes particularly striking, being dark and heavy both above and below the eyes. Hair bobbed but not shingled, although it might be shingled now. Slight natural wave. Color fair; difficult to describe exactly as it is a faint golden light tan that is neither golden nor ash blonde but in-between.

Five things will help you to recognize Sylvia Marie La Veery. The first is the gray color of her eyes, which is not common. The second is the dark lashes, both above and below the eyes. The third is her voice, which is a rich contralto, even in speaking. The fourth is a mannerism she shows when talking, interestedly or excitedly, at which times she will "dance," not as a child dances but rather as if flexing the muscles, much as a trained boxer "dances" in the ring, although more restrained. The fifth is the pitiful face of this unfortunate child, familiar in every home in the United States and Canada where newspapers are read. This, of course, is the birthmark on her right cheek, irregularly diamond shaped, with one point of the diamond just climbing to the tip of the nose, while the other point fades out below the right ear.

Keep your eyes open! Watch out for poor little Sylvia! Let every red-blooded American from Maine to California, from (Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.) (Continued tomorrow.)

Barons Rally in Seventh T. Win Second From Houston, 5-3

3-Run Lead Overhauled In Bat Spree

Yarvan's Home Run in 8th Adds One More; Both Starting Pitchers Routed.

BY HORACE RENEGAR.

Associated Press Staff Writer, Birmingham, Ala., September 27.—(AP)—A big seventh inning, climaxed by Jimmy Johnston's sensational steal of third base and home, turned what appeared certain defeat into a 5-to-3 victory for Birmingham today, giving the Barons two straight over Houston in the Dixie series.

There were numerous thrills in the second game of the series between the Southern association and Texas league champions, but none approached the daring baserunning of the Barons third baseman. With the score 3-1 in the seventh and two men down, Johnston caught Catcher Snyder and third baseman Hook napping at the post and romped over to third. A moment later, he continued to the home plate, with Hallahan, relief pitcher, standing idly by, apparently half dazed by the audacity of the steal. When Hallahan finally threw the ball to Snyder, the runner was already over the plate.

With Ken Penner, star right-hander of the Buffaloes, facing Luther Roy, ace of the Barons' right-arm hurlers, at the start it appeared that another mound duel was in the offing. The Texans, however, hopped on Roy's offerings in the second frame and used four hits to score twice. Peele and Schulte counting, Worthington added another in the next inning and it looked as if the Buffaloes were ready to even the game count.

Judd Holds Buifs. Ralph Judd, reliever Roy, turned the visitors back from there out, though with fine support. Then came the fatal seventh, four hits, a Buff bobbie and Johnston's steal, showing four runs over with Yarny adding the fifth and final in the next inning when he poked one into the left-center stands.

It has been seldom in the history of Southern association baseball where the fans reached such a peak of excitement as occurred in the seventh inning. A constant din, beginning with Yarny getting safely to first on a bad throw, grew louder until the last out had been made. Yarny's homer in the next bat around started the vocal fireworks again but his mates could not sustain the racket. The attendance today fell several thousand short of yesterday, some 10,000 turning out for the contest.

Smith Is Conceded All Cities In Ohio as Mrs. Willebrandt's Tirades Alienate Voters

Raymond Clapper Says Cleveland, Cincinnati Democratic; Rural Vote May Save Republicans.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 27.—(United Press.)—Ohio republican leaders who fear the effect of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt's attack on Governor Smith have appealed to Washington headquarters to discontinue her efforts to secure any further political addresses which she may deliver.

One of those who feels most strongly on this point is Maurice Maschke, Ohio republican committeeman and member of the executive committee of the republican national committee. He feels that Mrs. Willebrandt already has cost Herbert Hoover many votes and that if she is permitted to continue serious damage will be done.

Managerial Confidence. Maschke has every expectation that Hoover will have an easy majority over Smith in Ohio considering that in 1924 Mr. George C. Davis of Ohio by 240,000 over the combined votes of Davis and LaFollette. Harding had a majority of 400,000 in 1920. Such a proportion of republican strength makes Hoover's managers extremely confident, yet they see the possibility of losing ground rapidly should Smith be subjected to unfair attacks with the tacit sanction of the republican national committee.

The two speeches of Mrs. Willebrandt, which have caused much controversy were delivered in Ohio. Since then, newspapers have been receiving communications which severely condemn her. She is switching from Hoover to Smith. The number is likely to grow if the impression spreads that the republican national committee is sympathetic to Mrs. Willebrandt's campaigning.

Woman Condemned. Maschke, who declared for Hoover as against his own senator, the late Frank R. Willis, in the pre-convention race, issued a statement severely condemning Mrs. Willebrandt's type of campaign.

"Evidently she is endeavoring to persuade the Methodist church, the chief protagonist of the prohibition amendment, that it is its duty to fight to preserve the amendment. I do not think this is a wholehearted fight at all. I believe the campaign should be waged only along one line, the superior qualifications of our candidate to fill the office of chief executive."

Ohio often is classed as a doubtful state but actually it has seldom been so in presidential elections. In the last 50 years it went democratic only twice for Wilson. Not even Cleveland could carry Ohio although before 1920 the republican majorities were small.

Ohio Is Dry State. This has been due somewhat to the increasing part prohibition has played in politics in the last few years and the strong influence of the Anti-Saloon league which was born in Ohio. Ohio is dry as a whole despite active wet sentiment in the cities, especially Cleveland and Cincinnati. The Protestant churches which are the backbone of the Anti-Saloon league, plus the inherently dry tendency of the rural sections, have outweighed the wet cities. Cleveland is wet and republicans there are avoiding prohibition. If discussed it is only to the effect that a president can do nothing toward changing the law with congress headquarters dry. Smith is running with a wet democratic senatorial candidate, Graham Hunt, but with a dry candidate for governor, Representative Martin L. Davey. Smith is expected to gather good majorities in Cleveland and Cincinnati. Hunt, who lives in Cincinnati, predicts a 50,000 majority for Smith in Hamilton county, which includes Cincinnati.

Cleveland has the largest proportion of foreign population of any city in the country. It is the center of one of the largest Catholic dioceses in the world, there being some 500,000 Catholics in the 14 counties of northern Ohio which comprise the Cleveland diocese extending from Sandusky on the west, to the Pennsylvania line on the east. Many of these are recent immigrants, as for instance, County Prosecutor Stanton, who has been elected four times in succession in Cuyahoga county. He is speaking for the republican ticket.

Smith Is Leading. In one newspaper poll here, one doubtful ward, full of Irish Catholics, showed a 6-to-1 vote for Smith today. Charles Wolfram, secretary of the Steuben society of American, and a Catholic, lives here. Recently when Hoover managers claimed the support of citizens of German descent, Wolfram wrote to John J. Backus, chairman of the democratic national committee, saying the Steuben society had no preference in the campaign. Personally, he is for Smith and although he is not active his position will have some influence with others of German blood. Republicans are trying to revive the German feeling against Wilson which was so strong in the 1920 campaign.

Republican leaders here are somewhat concerned over a revival of the Klan in southern Ohio since the nomination of Smith. Canvassers are out and a few fiery crosses have been burned. One republican leader here said it would hurt them.

The eleventh and twelfth wards of Cleveland, which have been going republican by 35,000, showed a majority of just one vote for Hoover in a current newspaper poll.

New Voters Watched. Democrats are devoting much attention to new voters and John Dyke, from note to John J. Backus, chairman of the democratic national committee, has organized a Young Voters' league and expects to have Al Smith, Jr., speak.

The large vote which went to La Follette in 1924, is eagerly sought by both sides. La Follette got 75 per cent as many votes as Davis and Cleveland. Two of the local leaders in his campaign, Peter Witt and Davis R. Hertz, are active in the Smith campaign.

Smith ought to carry Cuyahoga county by 20,000, some experts on local conditions say. Democrats claim he will have 50,000 majority in the city. The republicans practically concede the city though not by any such majority. Cincinnati is conceded by Smith. But the prevailing feeling is Smith will lose Ohio because of the heavy republican majority of the last two elections. Prohibition, religion and prosperity are the subjects of most interest to Ohio.

Ohio is a state where politics is highly organized and the result will depend not upon speeches and "is-ism" but upon the relative efficiency of the two organizations. And when an Ohio politician starts out to be efficient, there's no telling what'll happen.

AT THE THEATERS

ROADSHOW PICTURES—ERLANGER—"Simba"

VAUDEVILLE PICTURES—KEITH'S GEORGIA—Five acts; "Kit Carson." CAPITOL—Five acts; "The Cameraman."

PICTURE-STAGESHOWS—HOWARD—"Taka-Chance Week" program.

FEATURE PICTURES—METROPOLITAN—"Hit of the Show." RIALTO—"Fazil."

NEIGHBORHOOD MOVIES—EMPIRE—"Dressed to Kill." FAIRFAX—"The Moon of Israel." FORCE DE LEON—"Dress of the Day." WEST STREET—"The Patsy." WEST END—"We Americans."

Erlanger. For those who go to motion pictures for something besides mere entertainment, "Simba," at the Erlanger theater this week is earnestly recommended. And as an added attraction Douglas Oliver, Atlanta Boy Scout, with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson in Africa appears in person at each performance.

The film is the result of the adventures of the explorers, Martin and Mrs. Johnson, in a hitherto unexplored region of Africa. Penetrating to the center of this territory the intrepid explorers searched the surrounding country for a distance of about a thousand miles in several directions.

Loew's Capitol. Two able and resourceful filmmakers, J. Francis Bowley and Clarence Sales, are the headlines on a strong vaudeville bill now being presented at Loew's Capitol theater. Other acts are White Way Gaieties, a big dance revue; Goss and Barrows in a comedy sketch; Bill Day, popular radio star, and the Worden Brothers, foot jugglers. The picture is "The Cameraman," with "Buster" Keaton.

Loew's Grand. Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell opened a return engagement in "The Cameraman" at Loew's Grand theater Thursday. This great picture with its new sound features is one of the best pictures of the season and recently scored heavily with the stars of "Seventh Heaven" are teamed together again in this beautiful little comedy-drama.

Howard. The Howard's second big "Taka-Chance" show is rapidly coming to a close, in fact only two more days remain to see it. No number on the program has been announced, but the whole show is a secret and every unit is a surprise, but the whole show is said to be a hit. Frank Cambrina, who will be remembered as the producer of last year's "Taka-Chance" show, produced this one also.

Metropolitan. "Hit of the Show," the second Photophone talking picture, seen and heard at the Metropolitan this week, tells the story of ambitions behind the footlights, in the kind of drama that is re-enacted by audiences in front of the stage. It is full of heart-throbs and pathos and quite a bit of drama. Joe Brown, the star, is also seen and heard in a Vitaphone comedy on the same program.

Rialto. Even more passionate than the famed film romances of Rudolph Valentino, "The Sheik," and "Son of the Sheik," the new Fox Movietone picture, "Fazil," playing at the Rialto theater this week to capacity crowds, bids to go down in history as one of the finest pictures of its kind ever made. Greta Nissen, beautiful Swedish star, and Charles Farrell are featured. Besides "Fazil," the program offers a big-time bill of Vitaphone vaudeville and Movietone news.

Cameo. Bebe Daniels' latest picture, "Hot News," showing at the Cameo Friday, deal with the exploits of a newsreel camera girl. The climax of the picture is one that should give the most blasé moviegoers a thrill. Airplanes and government coast guard cutters are employed to make this an unusually spectacular finish.

Empire. Thrills, humor and suspense feature "Dressed to Kill," the screen drama of the modern underworld, with Edmund Lowe and Mary Astor in the important roles. Today's screen feature at the Empire theater, corner of Georgia avenue and Crew street, while this evening at 8 o'clock, the regular weekly feature of fun and unusual entertainment will be staged when non-professional entertainers will take part in an "Amateur Night" contest.

Tudor. "Gun Gospel," showing Ken Maynard in his latest picture, will be seen at the Tudor today and Saturday. It deals with the crusade against the gunmen who fought the west. Maynard, as the fighting parson, displays his ability as an actor as well as performing hair-raising stunts with his famous horse, Tarzan.

'Simba's Lauded By Peter Twitty, State Game Head

High approval of the feature picture, "Simba," now being shown at the Erlanger theater, was expressed Thursday by Peter S. Twitty, state game and fish commissioner of Georgia, one of the foremost figures in the south interested in the protection of wild life of all kinds.

Mr. Twitty was enthusiastic over "Simba" and in discussing the film Thursday he declared that it is a picture that every person should see.

"When I went out to the Erlanger I went with great expectations which were more than fulfilled," Mr. Twitty said. "I can't conceive of a picture with greater educational value than 'Simba.' It takes the spectator into the heart of the African jungles and gives glimpses of wild life that could not be had in any other way."

Mr. Twitty said the depiction of wild life in various countries is one of the legitimate fields of the motion picture and said the production of other pictures of this kind should be encouraged. He said the best way of encouraging the industry is to visit them when they are shown.

"Certainly the producers of 'Simba' have made a valuable contribution to the world's knowledge of this age," Mr. Twitty said.

9 "Simba" Winners Neglect To Apply For Their Tickets Nine winners of the 25 children who were awarded a pair of tickets to see "Simba" at the Erlanger theater have not asked for their tickets, a checkup Thursday revealed. The children were awarded tickets for naming animals in The Constitution's "Simba" contest recently.

Those who have not received tickets should apply immediately after noon today to the City Editor of The Constitution, fourth floor The Constitution building and receive two tickets. The nine who have not received tickets are: Billy Tucker, 716 Park drive, N. E.; Frank Tugler, 305 Ponce de Leon; Nanelle Thornhill, Decatur; Evelyn Phillips, 900 E. Pryor street; Martha Smith, 1356 Morningside drive; Edna Hayes, Decatur; Pat Thornhill, Decatur; Manley Morrison, 304 Fernwood street, and Mary Rose Wood, 330 Central avenue.

SHEPHERD TRIAL FINANCING TOLD IN COURT HEARING Chicago, September 27.—(AP)—O. R. Daily, vice president of the defunct brokerage firm of Toumbs & Daily, testifying before Garfield Charles, referee in bankruptcy, today cleared up the mystery that surrounded the financing of the defense of William Darling Shepherd, tried and acquitted of the murder of William McClintock, the "millionaire orphan," when he said that his concern furnished about $50,000 to defend Shepherd.

Shepherd was accused of causing the death of his wealthy ward by administering typhoid germs in order to gain control of the property and prevent the youthful millionaire, who had just become of age, from marrying. Shepherd was acquitted of the murder charge. A will was produced leaving the bulk of the estate to Shepherd, but relatives and Miss Isabel Pope, McClintock's fiancée, are fighting it and the estate still is in litigation.

Mr. Daily said in explaining the advance of the funds that he thought it was a good business proposition as Shepherd had promised to pay back the money advanced and in addition to turn over for investment the $2,000,000 McClintock estate.

Mr. Daily said he advanced the money to Shepherd and to Robert Stoll, one of Shepherd's attorneys. Shepherd, he said, was a stockholder in the brokerage house.

SCENE OF ATTACK SOUGHT BY POLICE

Wisconsin Man Is Searched With Hot Tar; All Details Meager.

Kenosha, Wis., September 27.—(AP)—A barn with a sliding door near which a pig pen was sought in vain today by officers hunting the place where Harold Hendrickson, employee of the Allen A. Hosiery company, was "seared with hot tar" by kidnapers last night. A strike, which has been marked by bombings and disorders, has been in progress at the plant since February 16.

The barn and the pig pen Hendrickson saw when a blindfold slipped from his eyes for an instant as he was being led through a farm yard, he said. But he could give the searching parties little information of the direction or distance he was carried.

Four masked men last night stopped the automobile in which Hendrickson was riding with his two sisters, Marie and Olga. They were on a highway six miles south of here. He was ordered at the point of a gun to get out of his machine and into the one occupied by the quartet. A scuffle ensued in which the sisters came to the aid of their brother. Marie was struck on the head with the butt of a gun. Hendrickson told officers that after he was thrown into the automobile his abductors drove for probably 15 minutes and stopped in what appeared to be a barn yard.

Then, with taunts at "a man who would take an honest man's job," one of the quartet poured hot tar onto his body.

BRITISH NAVAL FLIER PLANS ATLANTIC HOP

Arrives in Newfoundland With Plane and Waits for Good Weather.

Harbor Grace, N. F., September 27.—(AP)—A young British naval officer who believes in hunches was here today for a proposed solo flight across the Atlantic within the next fortnight. If the weather is favorable and he has a hunch he will attempt the flight; if not he will pack up the plane and return to England.

Commander H. C. Macdonald, 28 years old, whose chief aeronautic achievement was a flight from London to Baghdad, although he has only 50 hours of flying to his credit, thinks he will be able to demonstrate that a British moth plane with a sole flier is able to stand up against Atlantic weather. He said that with this type of plane the only experience needed is good navigation which his years as navigator on a British warship guaranteed.

He arrived at St. John's yesterday from England, with his plane crated and ready for assembling. With him was a mechanic, A. F. Williams. The commander said his flight was being financed privately and that he was not bound to fly if conditions were not suitable. If the weather is not favorable by mid-October he will not attempt the flight. He hopes to have the plane assembled and tested by October 1.

The Simple Logic of Georgia's Development as a Textile Center

Has Your Present Location these Assets?

Low production costs
Plentiful and adaptable labor
Cheap raw materials
Low cost, abundant power
Low building costs
Low taxes
Tax exemptions
Cooperation
Growing market for product
Adequate railroad
Modern port facilities

THERE is no mystery to the rapid growth of industrial Georgia. The analysis finally pins the blame on location—and they cast about for a better one.

Engineering surveys show that Georgia offers the ideal combination of major industrial advantages, with the outstanding advantage of a great labor reserve. Tests with small units show that Georgia plants pay—and permit competitive marketing.

And so they move, bag and baggage, to Georgia. More New England spinners have come to Georgia than to any other Southern state during the past five years because Eastern executives have learned these facts, and chosen Georgia on a profit basis.

As the result of three independent engineering surveys, we are ready to give you accurate data on locations in Georgia. We can tell you which locations are most suitable. We can assist your own engineers in their work. And we will do it gladly.

This cooperation is available to any interested executive either through our New York office at 120 Broadway, or direct from the home office of the Georgia Power Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY
INDUSTRY PROSPERS IN GEORGIA

IT IS not enough, in our belief, to render dependable service to 185 Georgia communities --- and let it go at that. Our efforts to serve Georgia take two parallel channels.

One is a constant improvement and betterment of that service, by the application of new inventions, the building of great dams, networks of new lines. It is an effort to make Georgia ready for the industrial growth that is surely coming.

The other is a steady drive on the executives of American Industry to make them see wherein Georgia Locations are better than other locations. The advertisement illustrated here is one of a series directed toward the textile and other industries.

We are glad to cooperate with any community in helping to speed the industrial development of our State.

Australian Dock Workers Beat Volunteer Laborers.

Port Adelaide, Australia, September 27.—(AP)—The strike of dock workers reached a stage of violent rioting in this port today. The disorders began this morning when 2,000 men invaded the docks and threatened the "volunteers" who have taken the places of union workers, injuring ten severely. Later in the day an effort was made to rein the workers on ships in the outer harbor but the police had been reinforced with mounted men and although the crowd charged repeatedly, it finally was repulsed and returned to Port Adelaide.

VICTIM OF PISTOLS OF DRY MEN RALLIES

Woman, Shot by Agents
Who Fired on Private Car
Will Recover.

Lorain, Ohio, September 27.—(AP)—Three members of a police dry squad, who are alleged to have injured a young woman today when they fired on a private automobile near here, were released under bond to appear before the Lorain county grand jury.

The officers are, Frank Kiddy, a deputy sheriff, and Walter Knitter and Louis Cleo, city police.

Miss Betty Heywood, 22, of Elyria, is in a hospital here with a bullet wound in the neck. She is expected to recover.

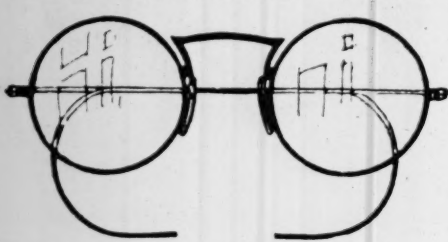

How Shooting Occurred.

The shooting took place when the officers failed in an attempt to stop the car in which Miss Heywood was a passenger. Believing them to be holdup men as they stepped from a bridge approach and ordered him to stop, Charles Edwards, driver of the car, increased his speed. A shot followed and Miss Heywood collapsed on the floor of the car. She was taken to a hospital and police were notified.

The three officers, members of a dry squad working out of the office of Mayor J. C. Standen, were arrested.

The Constitution has received from Mrs. M. A. Griffin, of Hapeville, mother of Miss Lois Griffin, local girl whose career in Hollywood was financed by Clinton S. Carter, missing treasurer of the Baptist Home Mission board, the following letter: "Will you please correct the statement that was made in your paper concerning Miss Lois Griffin as to her being a cotton mill employee. She never having been in Hapeville. She was never in a cotton mill in her life, neither has she ever been in Hapeville over three hours, as she is in Hapeville only twice to dine. Will you give notice that this unfounded notice has given her mother and friends much embarrassment, and that in mitigation, please correct without delay."
